Meet the 1984-85 Men's Hockey Blues

Head Coach — Paul Titanic

Paul Titanic was appointed Head Coach of the University of Toronto Blues in June 1983, succeeding Tom Watt, who resigned to become head coach and assistant general manager of the NHL Vancouver Canucks. Titanic joined the Blues as assistant coach in 1983-84, when Mike Keenan, the NHL Coach of the Year in 1984-85, led the Blues to the 1984 Canadian University Championship.

Titanic, 26, and a native of Toronto, attended Bowling Green State University in Ohio from 1975-79 on a hockey scholarship and was team captain in his senior year. He graduated in 1979 with a Bachelor's degree in Recreation Administration and then received a graduate assistantship, which enabled him to earn a Master of Education degree from Bowling Green in 1980. He obtained a Bachelor of Education degree from the University of Toronto in 1984. Paul has received Level IV MCOEP certification as a hockey coach and instructor and, in addition to his coaching duties, will teach two hockey courses at the University of Toronto School of Physical and Health Education.

After completing his playing career at Bowling Green, Paul had continued in the program in 1979-80 as head coach with the Junior Varsity team and as assistant with the Varsity team. He was head coach at Bowling Green High School in 1980-81. Paul spent the 1981-82 season in Europe as a player and coach with the Oslø Hockey Club in the Swedish First Division.

Blues overall record during the past two seasons is 73 victories, 9 ties and 15 losses. Included in this totals are 47 victories, 1 tie and 5 losses in Ontario Universities Athletic Association league and playoff games.

Assistant Coach — Mark Teskey

Mark Teskey joins the Blues coaching staff this season. The 25-year-old Toronto native is no stranger to OUAU university hockey. A graduate of Richview Collegiate, he was a goaltender with the Blues perennial rivals, Western Ontario Mustangs, from 1979-83 and graduated from Western's administrative and commercial studies program in 1983. In 1983-84 he was assistant coach with the Blues cross-town rival, York University.

Last season, Mark was assistant coach with the Henry Carr Crusaders, who earned first place in the OHA Jr. B league during the regular season. Mark has been an instructor at Huron Hockey Schools, is an avid golfer and is employed in the construction concrete industry.

Blues head coach Paul Titanic says Mark will be a valuable asset to the Blues coaching ranks during the coming year. "As a former player in our league, Mark has a first-hand knowledge of the various teams and their styles of play. He knows the game of hockey very well and has already demonstrated that he is a skilled teacher and coach of university hockey players. Mark will make a major contribution to the Blues success this season."

Men start conference play Jan. 12

After a strong, promising start, a mini-slump plagued the Men's Basketball Blues through the middle part of their exhibition season. Several close losses, games that really could have gone either way, contributed to the slump. The fact that the Blues played a super-tough schedule featuring four NCAA Division I schools didn't help. But as the Blues prepared to enter conference play, they brought their pre-season record back to respectability with a 9-10 record. That rebound included wins against American University of Washington D.C., the then first-ranked Waterloo Warriors, and the ever dangerous Windsor Lancers.

The Blues conference schedule, against rivals from the OUAA East culminates on the last day of February with the OUAA playoffs. Last season, the Blues placed second in the OUAA East and hope to repeat at least that much. A victory against the York Yeoman, either at home on January 28 or in York on February 11, however, will probably see the Blues tie up home-court advantage for the playoffs.

Blues head coach Brian Heaney talked with Blues Spirit just before the Blues defeated Western 81-77 to finish their non-conference schedule.

Blues Spirit: Is the team, in your opinion, still capable of achieving the goals that were set out at the beginning of the season?

Heaney: Yes, I still believe we can achieve what we set out to do.

Blues Spirit: In what ways has the team's performance so far been disappointing?

Heaney: At the beginning of the season, there was too much individualism and not enough team-oriented thinking. We are improving steadily each week and are much more cohesive and disciplined than earlier. I think it is important to remember that no school in the country has played a tougher schedule than we have so far, and we have played well against very stiff competition.

Blues Spirit: Have there been any pleasant surprises in terms of players exceeding expectations?

Heaney: Mark Harvey's performance as a freshman has been outstanding. Sam Hill has put his game back together very well and Terry Victor has risen to the forefront after being on the bench for two years.

Blues Spirit: How has the team benefitted from the numerous tournaments you have played so far?

Heaney: First of all, the tournaments gave the players a realistic impression of ourselves, an idea of who we are and where we are at. This team now knows that we can compete against anybody, although we dominate nobody. We always have a shot at winning.

Beating American University at our Can-Am Challenge, was the greatest victory ever for the U of T Men's Basketball program. American is a better than average team in Division I and a victory like this, along with our defeat of top ranked Waterloo, made the players realize that they are capable of beating the best in the country.

Finally, the tournaments helped by sharpening our mental toughness for tournament competition itself. The players have learned that they must maintain a high level of concentration over several days and several games.

Blues Spirit: Have there been any morale problems on the team so far?

Heaney: We have had to grapple with individualism, selfishness, and a lack of commitment to team goals.

Blues Spirit: What were the circumstances surrounding the two players who left the team?

Mike Forestell demonstrates team play, the new emphasis of the Blues this term.

Heaney: It is now old news and we are treating it as an internal team matter. Hopefully the situation can be resolved and we can take a corrective course of action with the intention of improving the team's opportunity for success.

Blues Spirit: How would you describe the performance of the newcomers this season?

Heaney: Very Good! Art Sharp's development has been terrific. He gives us additional size on the boards and plays excellent defense. I'm very happy with Art's progress.

The only disappointment is that he missed the D'Armon Memorial Tournament because of a broken leg and won't be back for a few more weeks. Rob McAleer, has played steadily, which is impressive because he has the toughest academic load of all our players. Mark Harvey has also played well on defense and is a force on the offensive boards. Kevin Crowe, from Ottawa, has added punch in the front court and both Brian Williams and Nick Saul are becoming fine perimeter players with bright futures in our program.

Blues Spirit: Which player has performed with the most consistency so far?

Heaney: It's impossible to single out one player because the team output has been a collective effort regardless of the outcome. As a team our performance has certainly been much more consistent in the last month.

Blues Spirit: Will the players treat the upcoming York contest (Jan. 28) as just another game or are you taking a different approach?

Heaney: As far as preparation goes, we are doing nothing different. But because York/Toronto is such a natural rivalry, it will heighten the players' enthusiasm and it would be foolish for me to try to downplay or dampen that enthusiasm. We always look forward to that match-up.

Blues players dominate honours

Sporting a perfect 14-0 record against Canadian competition, the Lady Blues Basketball team now look forward to their conference schedule and to showdowns with their arch-rivals, the Laurentian Vees. The Blues finished out their non-conference play in their usual fashion, dominating the prestigious McGill tournament with wins over Alberta (81-59), Concordia (93-34) and Calgary (91-61), all scores of 30 points, or more!

For their efforts in McGill, veteran swing forward Pat Melville was named tournament MVP while second-year guard Mary Anne Kowal was named UofT Athlete of the Week. The McGill honour was the fourth straight tournament in which Melville was named MVP. Kowal contributed 49 points in the Blues three games in Montreal.

The Blues other starters have also contributed to the cause, with centre Angela Orton having been named to the all-star team in three of the team's four final tournaments. Point guard Theresa Byrnes and forward Peggy Blumenthal have also had impressive seasons so far in '85-'86.

The Blues look to open their home season with a bang as they face off with one of only two teams with a higher national ranking, as Laurentian comes to Varsity Arena on Saturday, January 25. February should see the Blues travel to Sudbury twice, first for a game against the Vees, and then for The OWIAA championships, this year hosted by Laurentian.

Angela Orton and Pat Melville continue to be a powerful one-two punch for the Blues.

Blues guard Mary Anne Kowal scored 49 points in three games on the weekend.

Varsity Arena Reopening Ceremonies

The official opening ceremonies marking the reopening of Varsity Arena and the completion of its renovation program will be held on Wednesday, February 19 at 7:30 pm when the Hockey Blues meet the York Yeoman. Watch for further details in our next issue.

GRIZZLY ENCOUNTERS

(The day Guy Mann ordered the toast)

"I was sittin' in this roadside joint when along comes a bear all dressed up like a waiter. Told him I'd like a Grizzly Beer and an order of toast. 'I can getcha the Grizzly, but there ain't no toast,' said the bear. 'This is lunch, doncha know?' I was real tickled that they had the Grizzly Beer. Told the bear how smooth and easy g'da' down it was, and how it came in a nice tall bottle and went at regular beer prices. Also told him I was sellin' like hotcakes down there in the U.S.

"Don't have any hotcakes either," said the bear. "This is lunch, doncha know?" Time, I said. Get me a Grizzly Beer and a toasted chicken sandwich. Hold the mayo, hold the lettuce, hold the chicken. Smilin' the bear said, "Where should I hold it?" Well, to make a long story short, the bear brought the Grizzly. And we struck up a friendship. 'Cause he had a sense of humour, you see. Holdin' all that chicken and lettuce in the place he was holdin' it.

Grizzly. Paw yourself a smooth one.

Hockey Blues at new crossroad

By Glen Martin
Sports Editor,
The Varsity

Any resemblance between the 1980 U.S. Olympic hockey team and the current version of the Varsity Blues is, of course, purely coincidental. Comparisons between the two are absurd. So let's indulge in no more than one absurdity, then get on with what the balance of the season might hold for the Blues.

When Glen Murphy took a slick pass from Darren Lowe very early on the morning of December 30 and beat Bowling Green goalie Gary Kruzich after 23:15 of overtime, he gave the Blues not only a 5-4 decision and the Lake Placid tourney championship, but arguably the team's greatest triumph since the national university title two years ago. And because it happened in the tiny New York town where the American Olympians carved out their niche of immortality, and because the Blues beat a team many thought they had no business beating (Bowling Green stood second in the NCAA poll, recollections of the Olympic miracle were automatic.

But back when Herb Brooks, Jim Craig and company copped the gold, their fairy tale was complete. The Blues, on the other hand, have more than half a season to play, and much yet to prove.

Paul Titanic's club finds itself at a crossroads. The win over Bowling Green levelled their record for the first time this season. It's a team unaccustomed to struggling through almost an entire term below .500, but it took a 4-0-1 surge to reach that plateau. What remains to be seen is if the club can take advantage of their conference games in hand and rise to more familiar territory in the OUA standings. In other words, does the recent success mean all that much? Titanic thinks it does.

"Winning this championship game is just part of a progression," he said on the way back from Lake Placid. "It started out down at Cornell a 2-2 tie in a really tough game, and we played through an overtime there. Then, we beat (previously unbeaten) Laurier, then Concordia, which had beaten us earlier (twice, in Montreal), and now this. It's just all part of the development. After the early losses, I tried to make the guys understand we were going to get better and better. It always takes some time when you have a new coach...everybody's unsure of what direction they're going in initially.

"But now, everyone has decided they all want to go in one direction. We've got so many guys who are hard workers and really committed to the team. At the start of the year, it just wasn't happening. I was just amazed I saw some of these guys with good character, and it just wasn't happening. Now it is."

Lowe, the Lake Placid MVP and a tournament all-star along with goalie Kevin Hamlin, is also confident the team is back on the rails.

"At the beginning of the year, we had basically the same team we do now except for the addition of defenceman Scott Medhurst," explained Lowe. "But there was something missing, intensity or whatever, and I think after we lost three OUA games, we realized we were in trouble."

"Also, we got our ass kicked the first time we went down to the States (a 12-2 humiliation at NCAA-champion RPI), and there was no way we were going to let that happen at Cornell. We played a great game there. Then we beat Laurier 4-3 in Waterloo, and if this season turns out to be as good as I think, I'd like to thank them. Before that game, they were so confident they thought they were going to wipe us off the face of the earth, and I think that goaded us into playing well. That probably changed our season right there."

"To lose three in our first eight games of the year was a shock. But we've got a real work ethic now. It's possible we'll lose another game or two or who knows how many, but I honestly think we'll give 100% every single game instead of having one or two good periods then a stinky period like we were having earlier in the year."

An interesting correlation: Titanic broke up the prolific line of Lowe, Don McLaughlin and Phil Drouillard for the first time at Cornell, the beginning of the recent upswing. The coach felt the trio was concentrating too much on displaying their abundant offensive skills and letting the team suffer at the other end of the ice. Lowe, Titanic figures, has the talent and presence to inspire other forwards who haven't been scoring with any regularity.

Glen Murphy scored in overtime against Bowling Green.

With things starting to fall into place, Titanic's next task might be to get the team back on an even keel. After Lake Placid, he said he was concerned about the players getting too high emotionally, and their 7-2 loss to Manitoba two game later shows they still go flat from time to time. But Titanic's outlook on the rest of the season is such that the club isn't likely to get self-satisfied. "I think we still have a long way to go, and the thing I look forward to is we can still get a lot better."
